Lap Band and Dieting

For nearly 15 years, Shane, 39, had attempted a number of diets and medications, but still found he could not keep the weight from coming back.

A father, Shane said his children were still young and he wanted to make sure his being overweight did not impact his health and time spent with them. Deciding to go for the surgical route to lose weight, Shane found out how Lap Band Solved the Weight Issue.

At 39 years of age, Shane noted that his children were still young and he did not want his weight to become a health issue where he would not be around for a long time.
